About

State of the District |

AISD received $62.3 Million from the U.S. Department of Education-the largest Teacher Incentive Fund grant in the country to expand AISD REACH, the District's Strategic Compensation Program. |

More than one-third of AISD schools moved up one or two levels in the State Accountability Rankings and 62 percent of schools were rated Exemplary or Recognized under the state rating system. There are also no new Academically Unacceptable (AU) schools for the new school year, seven of the eight AU schools came off the list. |

Austin students taking the SAT college entrance exam in 2010 exceeded both state and national overall average scores for the fourth year in a row. AISD students outscored their counterparts in the state and nation in Math, and in the state, in both Verbal and Writing scores. |

Results from the 2009 National Assessment of Education Progress (the nation's report card), show that AISD ranked either first or second in the nation in 4th and 8th grade math and science, and outscored charter schools. |

Four AISD schools made the Texas Business and Education Coalition's Honor Roll for 2010. Of the more than 8,000 Texas public schools, less than four percent received this honor. |

AISD is a diverse, urban district that is making great progress in student academic achievement. AISD is the fifth largest school district in Texas, and serves approximately 86,000 students at 128 schools.

The District's student population has grown by six percent over the past five years, and the Economically Disadvantaged student population has grown by 15 percent, and represents 61.3 percent of all students. The English Language Learner population has grown by 35 percent over the past five years, and now comprises 29 percent of the student population. AISD has also seen a 14 percent growth in the Hispanic students, a 10 percent decrease in the African American population, and a 5 percent drop in the White student numbers.

The District also supports families that represent more than 94 languages, and teaches seven languages other than English in the schools, including Spanish, Chinese, Japanese, and American Sign Language.
